

go
touch

some grass

go
touch

around nyc

some
grass

catskills mountains

A night scene in a forest. A campfire is burning brightly in the center, casting a warm glow. To the left, a portion of a tent is visible, illuminated by the fire. The ground is covered in dry leaves and twigs. The background is dark, with some trees visible in the distance.

january

Martin Luther king Jr. Day: third monday in january

february

march

april

may

june

july

august

september

october

november

december

The Catskill Mountains lie in southeastern New York State. The area is known for the Catskill Forest Preserve, with its rich wildlife and hiking trails, and ski resorts including Hunter Mountain and Belleayre Mountain.

january

february

march

april

may

Memorial Day: last monday in May

june

july

august

september

october

november

december

Lake George is a town in New York's vast, protected Adirondack region of mountains and old-growth forest. The town sits on the lake of the same name. On the shore, the Fort William Henry Museum & Restoration is a restored British fort, built in 1755. Nearby, Million Dollar Beach has picnic areas and a boat launch. The Prospect Mountain Veterans Memorial Highway offers views of the lake and the Adirondack High Peaks.